Our City Comment & discussion

Many Reasons Why Glendale Welfare Chest Drive Must Be Successful

GLENDALE is now in the midst of a campaign for raising funds to support a Community Welfare Chest.

After a careful investigation of this plan for financing welfare organizations we came to the conclusion some time ago that a Community Chest would be of great benefit to any city or commonwealth, as the people at large are fed up on the drives for funds that have been going on nearly all the time. On February 23 an editorial appeared in this column on this subject and we give below the substance of it:

THE Community Chest plan for supporting charitable, relief and welfare organizations is being accepted all over the land, filling a much needed place in community life. The first Community Chest was started in 1914 as an experiment and its success was such as to cause others to be inaugurated. During the war 400 war chests were established on a similar plan, with the exception that the beneficiaries were limited to war-time activities.

ON OCTOBER 6, 1922, a survey was taken of 120 cities with the following information gained: Eighty-eight cities had through-going Community Chests; 15 cities had Federation of Social agencies; 16 cities had Council of Social agencies. This proves there is a tendency towards organization of social agencies throughout the country.

THE chest has been tried for a sufficient period to prove its efficiency and among the benefits derived from its inauguration are the following:

First, many more people form the habit of giving. In a check of eight cities, with a combined population of over 2,000,000, that had established Community Chests, an average of 1300 per cent increase in number of persons giving was recorded. Second, those already in the habit of giving gave more generously. Third, it is easier to arouse enthusiasm among those soliciting funds. Larger sums can be raised with less effort. In a check of 18 cities a gain of 186 per cent in giving was recorded after the Community Chest was inaugurated. Fourth, a larger number of persons are educated in what is being done in the community. Fifth, it enables a city to study its needs and the knowledge gained makes for more effective giving. Sixth, it saves the time of the solicitors and the difficulty in raising budgets required is lessened. Statistics show that out of a check of 51 cities 19 raised 100 per cent or more of the budget, nine over 90 per cent, 12 over 80 per cent and 10 were between 50 and 80 per cent. Only one was below 50 per cent.

THE above information ought to convince the most skeptical individual of the advisability of having a Community Chest, for this is an age when efficiency and economy are demanded.

AL BARTON HAS THE SMILE THAT WON'T COME OFF

Mr. Al Barton is going around the streets of Burbank with a big smile and handing out cigars with him in honor of the arrival of an eight-pound son, born at the Burbank hospital Sunday morning at 4 o'clock. Mrs. Barton and the baby are doing nicely. At 5 a. m. yesterday, Al Barton was buying breakfast for everybody who happened to be on the street. Congratulations, Al.

Diamond Salesman Loses $20,000 in Gems

[By Associated Press] OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 26.—William Hoffman, who said he was a diamond salesman of Chicago, told police that three men robbed him of diamonds worth $20,000 when he alighted from a street car early this morning while he was taking two women home from a theater. Several men were arrested for questioning. He said the robbers beat him with a blunt instrument.

CREDIT MEN URGE GIVING TO CHEST

The Glendale Credit Men's Association at its noon luncheon today at the Egyptian cafe discussed at length the Community Chest drive and urged every member to help put the chest over.

"We are about half over the top on the drive," said Clyde Potter, who presided in the absence of Owen Emery. "In some sections the work is progressing slowly," said Mr. Potter. "I was with some of the workers Saturday and we found that giving is not as liberal as it should be among those who are able to give. A washer woman wrung the suds from her hands and gave us $12, which was really more than she could afford. In the same block we approached a home of wealth and the lady who met us at the door said she was not interested. We find too many persons who are not interested."

The usual routine business consumed the greater part of the noon hour.

DISAPPEARANCE OF ROY GOODRICH IS A MYSTERY

The disappearance of Roy Goodrich from the Westmont Hotel, 130 North Maryland avenue, is being investigated by the Glendale police department. A letter written by Mr. Goodrich and addressed to Barney Wonch, the occupant of the next room, was found Saturday night. In this he stated that he intended to commit suicide. Mr. Goodrich did not report for work this morning at the Jewel City Plumbing company's office at 526 East Broadway. He has not been seen by any of his friends since Saturday afternoon.

The possibility that Mr. Goodrich may have drowned himself in the ocean is entertained by Mr. Wonch. He reports that Mr. Goodrich was much interested in regard to the cost of hiring a row boat and the distance he would have to row in order to get over deep water.

Domestic difficulties are reported to be responsible for Mr. Goodrich's despondency. He is said to have made a trip to Newberg, Oregon, last summer in an unsuccessful attempt to effect a reconciliation with his wife. Detective W. J. Royle believes that Mr. Goodrich has merely changed his residence.

PYRAMID NO. 39 OF SCOTS NOW HAS ITS CHARTER

Will Give a Big Dance First Week in December

Glendale's pyramid is now a duly recognized member of the Scot's fraternity, having received its official charter last Friday at the hands of Past Toparch Arthur Dibern, acting on behalf of Deputy Pharaoh Tully, who was unable to attend the big meeting to which the organization rejoiced over its triumph at San Diego.

In celebration of its new dignities and privileges, the pyramid will give a dance the first week in December in the Glendale Press hall, the date of which will be announced at the regular session next Friday night. At that time a token of appreciation will be presented to Bill Osterman, whose work as leader of the Glendale pyramid band had much to do with its winning of the first prize at the state convention.

At the last meeting the beautiful cup, emblem of victory, was presented to the pyramid and its toparch, Harry Bennett, by Band Manager Raymond Russell, and upon him was bestowed a beautiful card case engraved with the emblems of Masonry and the Scot's order. He was likewise presented with a life membership in the Scots from the supreme pyramid, signed by the pharaoh and supreme scribe.

A fine speech was made by the visiting toparch from San Diego, who invited all the members of the pyramid to attend a big Scot's ceremonial to be held in San Bernardino on December 8. He also stated that the Glendale pyramid band boys would be the special guests of his pyramid from the time it left this city until it returned; that his organization would not consider its ceremonial complete without the presence of those victorious band members.

Delega. Moody gave a report of the San Diego convention which was followed with close attention and discussed in detail. He told of the charity work fostered by the supreme pyramid throughout the state and its interest in the welfare of the public schools. He also stated that the governor and 43 members of the state legislature are Scots. The band played the two numbers that won the cup at San Diego, which were received with a riot of applause. "Bob" Johnston, the newly appointed "Matador," celebrated his induction into office by giving the members plenty of entertainment in the way of stunts and jokes. A drive was started for 200 new members and announcement was made that as soon as they have been secured the pyramid will hold a big ceremonial at which supreme officers have promised to be present. A big feed followed the session and the meeting ended with lively manifestations of enthusiasm.

'COVERED WAGONS' TREKKED TO ALHAMBRA

Pioneer Notchers of the Valley in Great Y. M. C. A. Roundup

About 70 boys from Glendale Pioneer Notchers' clubs left here Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock for Alhambra to attend a round-up of similar organizations from Burbank, Hollywood, South Pasadena and Alhambra, held on the athletic grounds of the high school in that city. The boys were accompanied by Rex C. Kelley, J. F. Gasser, J. M. Center, H. C. Retberg and E. B. Thomas of Burbank, leaders of the local clubs, and left Glendale in three covered wagons, two of which were automobiles, disguised as wagons and the third being a wagon used as a trailer.

The boys cooked supper and then arranged a big camp fire in the form of a circle, with the covered wagons enclosing one side and the boys on the other side of the fire. Jack Swearington of Glendale was elected chief of police for the roundup. A mock trial of Dr. Grouch was scheduled and Bill Gray of Glendale chosen as attorney for the defense. Dr. Grouch was sentenced to be burnt at the stake in the morning. Other camp fire stunts were enjoyed, including singing, black face comedian acts, etc. The banner for the month was awarded to the Pioneer Notchers' club of Burbank as having made the best record. Guards were posted around the camp. At 6 a. m. on Saturday activities began with the bugle call of reveille. After breakfast came camp inspection, each camp being made up of two or three boys. The prize for the best arranged camp was awarded to a group of three boys from the Grand View Notchers' club of Glendale. Trusting Jennings, Hartley Hoffman and Foster Evans.

The boys next assembled around the camp fire and listened to the most interesting story told by Mr. Pomroy of South Pasadena. Mr. Pomroy came across the plains in a wagon train when he was 13 years old. He told of the long and tedious trip of six months from Kansas City of how the train of 40 wagons met the Indians and many other incidents. An exhibition of fancy roping was given by two young men from Hollywood. Dr. Grouch was then burnt at the stake. Football games between the different towns and other athletic games were then played. An old-fashioned barbecue dinner was served by the Kiwanis club of Alhambra to the boys. This was followed by an parade through the Alhambra streets. The Glendale boys came home about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

MEETING TONIGHT TO BOOST FOR PLAYGROUND

The Occidental-York Valley Improvement association asks everyone to attend the big meeting at the York Boulevard Presbyterian church tonight at 7:30. This will be of interest to everyone in Eagle Rock, York Valley, and all surrounding territory, because a playground is going to be established in the near future if everyone will get in and lend support. York Boulevard will be extended to connect with Santa Monica boulevard and the plan is to have the wholehearted cooperation of all the residents of this section. The association is striving to put over one of the biggest things in years for Los Angeles, and it wants to know how people will back it. The long-needed playground will be discussed from start to finish. When the people leave the church building tonight they will know of the efforts being made to give the kiddies a real chance to have a place for fun all the day long. It seems incredible that there has not been one located nearer a long time ago and from the present outlook this state of affairs will be changed very soon. Everyone is urged to come out.

WEATHER All California: Fair tonight and Tuesday; moderate northwesterly winds.

MRS. HUTCHINSON OF GLENDALE IS HIGHLY HONORED

Mrs. Charles E. Hutchinson, who was the president of the Tuesday Afternoon club when it assumed the financial responsibility of building its beautiful club house, and who was chairman of the building committee during its construction, has just been honored by the National Federation of Women's clubs, of which Mrs. Thomas Winter is president, by an appointment as national chairman of the bureau of information which will function during the great biennial convention to be held in Los Angeles in June.

It will mean strenuous work when that time comes, but few women in Southern California are better equipped than is Mrs. Hutchinson for the big task. She has for many years been a resident of Southern California and in touch with women leaders in all parts of the state through the offices she has held; for she has always been called upon to serve officially the organizations with which she has been connected.

Before and after coming to Glendale she was active and prominent in the Parent-Teacher Federation and the interests of the public schools of whatever community she chanced to reside in have always been very close to her heart. Whenever there has been occasion to appoint an advisory committee to plan and promote a school bond issue Mrs. Hutchinson has always been named as one of its members. Equally conscientious has she been in her endeavor to promote the vital things in club life. Members of the Tuesday Afternoon club are proud to know they have a member so well fitted to fill the important office that has been bestowed upon Mrs. Hutchinson. The first meeting of the national board of which Mrs. Hutchinson is now a member will be held next Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the Junior Orpheum building in Los Angeles.

Gasoline Price War On in Portland, Ore.

[By Associated Press] PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 26.—A gasoline price war was in progress in the southeastern section of Portland today as a result of a dealer making a cut to 15 cents a gallon. About thirty garages and filling stations met the price, which is the same as they pay to oil companies. The dealers said they relied upon profits on oil and accessories to compensate them. The regular retail price of gasoline here is 18 cents.

RAPPROCHEMENT IS SOUGHT ON RUM RUNNING

United States, Canada Confer on Liquor Smuggling

[By Associated Press] WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The United States government will propose to the American-Canadian conference over smuggling opening tomorrow at Ottawa that clearance of ships destined for United States ports with liquor cargoes be prohibited by Canada; that search and seizure of vessels engaged in smuggling on the Great Lakes be authorized and that a treaty arrangement be made for extradition of persons accused of violating the liquor laws.

Other points on the tentative list of American proposals are: Procedure for furnishing information concerning clearance of ships with cargoes of liquor.

CLERK WEBSTER AND FAMILY IN ENJOYABLE TRIP

Burbank's city clerk, F. S. Webster, who in company with his wife and father, drove last week all through the Imperial Valley, returned last night reporting an enjoyable time and a wonderful trip. He stated that there were 30,000 carloads of lettuce to be shipped in two weeks, an overabundance of corn, citrus fruits, alfalfa and barley and that the whole valley had a prosperous aspect. The trip both going and coming was very much enjoyed but Mr. Webster says that the last sixty-mile lap kept him busy dodging traffic.

EASTERN STAR DANCE IN EAGLE ROCK BIG SUCCESS

The Eastern Star chapter enjoyed a very pleasant evening at the club house last Saturday night. The dance was a great success. The crowd was feeling very liberal and bought all the articles which were left from the bazaar. Over a hundred dollars was cleared on the embroidery work alone. The affair began at eight o'clock and ended about 11:30. Delicious punch was served, made from Arrowhead juices. The money which was obtained will go to the relief work fund and thus help worthy causes. The regular meeting will be held tomorrow night in the Masonic Temple at 8 o'clock sharp. All members are expected to be on hand as there will be initiatory work. At the present time there are close to 160 members in this chapter.

GLENDALE WINS IN FIRST PLAYOFF CONTEST

Beats San Bernardino in Initial Elimination Game, 15 to 10

By FRANCIS W. READ Glendale High school football team, winner of the Central League and victor over San Bernardino in the first round of the playoffs, will meet the Santa Monica High school eleven in the semi-finals for the Southern California title this Saturday afternoon at 2:15 on Patterson Field, Occidental College.

"Sweet are the fruits of victory!" Coach Hayhurst, his Dynamiter football squad and every student and supporter of Glendale High school are singing that song today. Good cause have they to rejoice. The Black and Red footballers traveled to Ontario Saturday to meet the San Bernardino eleven in the first game of the Southern California championship playoff and came back with the long end of a 15 to 10 score.

The game was the hardest the local eleven has played this season, and, incidentally, the best. Outweighed several pounds to the man, the Dynamiters out fought San Bernardino and earned their victory by the narrow margin of five points. Three field goals from place kicks and a touchdown were responsible for the Glendale scores, while a touchdown, afterward converted, and a field goal from a place kick gave the Saints 10 points.

The Elliot brothers, Howard and Bud, did all the scoring for Glendale. Howard, "Breezy" made the three place kicks, while "Bud" made the touchdown after a pass and a 35-yard end run. "Breezy" made a 55-yard run around left end just before he made the first field goal and pulled off several other neat runs during the game. Pinekerf, playing right end, was responsible for the San Bernardino touchdown. He received a pass on the Glendale 15-yard line in the fourth quarter after the Saints had made considerable yardage on runs and passes, and galloped down the field for a touchdown. Ray Duke, left half of the Gate City team, who was pointed out as the fastest man in the aggregation, was unable to make much headway after the first quarter. The Dynamiters soon found that he was a dangerous

LELAND SHELTON, MISS VIOLET LEAP WED IN BURBANK

A beautiful and impressive wedding ceremony was solemnized Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Gladys Fisher, when Leland Shelton, son of Judge Shelton, was united in marriage to Violet Leap, of Los Angeles, by Rev. L. G. Parker. The rooms were beautifully decorated in pink and white carnations. The bride wore a lovely dark suit and hat and carried a bridal bouquet. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple left for an extensive tour through the north and upon their return will be at home to their friends at the little bungalow on Eighth street, between Santa Anita and Providencia. Those attending the wedding were William Leap, Mrs. L. Dye, Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Dehn, Miss Gypsy Dehn, all of Los Angeles and William Thompson, Miss Daisy Lee Hughes, Geoffrey Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Shelton, Mrs. Ray Sence and Mrs. Gladys Fisher of Burbank.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR GLENDALE'S SEWER BONDS

Amount Necessary Will Be Announced on Tuesday Evening

Preliminary plans in regard to the sewer bond issue campaign were discussed Saturday in a special conference at the Chamber of Commerce.

Chester Smith, member of the firm of Burns & McDonnell, reported that the investigation into the cost is almost completed. It was agreed that it would be well to announce the amount of the bond issue Tuesday night in the Tuesday Afternoon Clubhouse at the banquet to members of the local Chamber of Commerce and directors of the San Fernando Valley Chambers of Commerce.

V. B. Stone, assistant city engineer, reported that rights of way are being secured with difficulty and that so far they are being given without cost.

Councilman Asa Hall announced that the probable increase in the tax rate because of the installation of the sewer system would be less than the tax rate would be if Glendale should annex and assume the bonded indebtedness of Los Angeles.

To ascertain the most satisfactory rate of interest to be placed upon the bonds Mr. Horn and A. L. Baird were appointed to investigate.

A conference will be held Monday at 1 o'clock at the Los Angeles City Hall with H. A. Van Norman, engineer for the board of public works.

Miss Ruth Hunt, who is attending Santa Barbara college, will be home for Thanksgiving. She is the daughter of Mrs. Jessie Hunt, 459 West Maple street.

Willard Watts, a prominent St. Louis attorney who is spending the winter in Pasadena, visited his old friends and former fellow townsmen, Isaac H. Pearson and wife, 644 East Harvard.

APARTMENT COURT OF RARE BEAUTY PROJECTED

Plans have been prepared by Architect Leonard L. Jones for a beautiful group of court apartment buildings of Spanish type, with which John J. Graf is improving his property at 116-18, 20 and 22 West Elk, and for which the contract has been let to Malcolm Smith. The three two-story buildings—two facing a central court and one across the end, will contain 21 units of four rooms each.

The central court upon which the buildings will face will be planted to tropical trees and shrubs in harmony with the type of architecture, and not only the fronts of the main structures but the sides facing Elk will also be very attractive. A beautiful arched entrance will afford access to the court. Buff ruffled brick will be the material used in the exterior.

Mr. Graf is spending $100,000 on the proposition exclusive of the site, which is valued at $30,000. He is sparing no expense or trouble to provide every possible convenience for tenants. Free refrigeration and hot water will be furnished from a central plant, also gas, heat and telephone service. A double radio system will broadcast the programs of the Times and Examiner stations. Four garages will be provided and above one of them will be a laundry drying porch. The bathrooms will have tile-enclosed tubs and pedestal fixtures and in each one will be an electric hair dryer for the convenience of women tenants. There will also be an incinerator for the consumption of trash. Some will be furnished. While the scale of prices has not yet been definitely fixed, Mr. Graf admits it is likely to approximate $100 to $125 per month as he plans to make the apartments superior to anything now in existence in Glendale, and the location is exceedingly convenient being but 190 feet from Brand and the best of transportation.

The contractor started on his four-months' contract last Monday.

REV. EDMONDS' SERMON TOPIC "A MEAN MAN"

At the morning service of the Glendale Presbyterian church, the pastor, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, took for his sermon theme "A Mean Man," based on Luke 17:17, "Where are the nine?" The message was a Thanksgiving meditation and the speaker said the prodigal son was a mean man, an ingrate, in that he repaid kindness with enmity or accepted kindness without the courtesy of thanks.

Rev. Edmonds said in part: "In this passage we have nine such men in a row. As Jesus was passing on to Jerusalem ten lepers stood afar off crying to Him for mercy. He bade them go show themselves to the priest, as they went they were cleansed. One turned back and in gratitude glorified God. The others failed to show any gratitude. The Master asked, 'Where were the nine?' They had gone back to their homes or to their business and he was a mean man, a foreigner. The sin of ingratitude seems to be the most popular in sin in the world. The offense of doing nothing is one of the worst crimes in the big black category of wrongdoing. The sin of ingratitude is the broad highway to envy, malice and all uncharitable. The cowardly details of Peter and the base treachery of Judas are striking examples of this sin. One leper came back to own his gladness and thanksgiving. Where were the nine?"

"But who are we that we should be finding fault with these men? People who live in glass houses should never throw stones. We believe in God. That goes without saying. In Him we live and move and have our being. It is easy to say that and yet how difficult to live as we believed it. Every good gift and every perfect gift cometh down from the Father of Lights. 'O, that men would praise the Lord for His goodness and His wonderful works to the children of men.'"

"It would thus appear that life is not an automatic process. On the contrary it is an uninterrupted series of miracles. If every pulsation of our hearts is a result of divine interposition, then by all the recognized sanctions of honor, our life, like the golden altar of incense, should be sending up unceasing tribute of praise to him from whom all blessings flow.

But life is only the beginning of the bill of charges. Our living must also be included in it. You say, 'I make my living.' Whence come powers of mind and body behind it? We sit down to a table furnished by God Himself. The water is provided by His gracious hand, the bread comes from Him. Common courtesy demands that we say 'Thank you' to God. 'Where are the nine?'

Think of the countless common blessings of civilization. They are by-products of the Gospel. Take Christianity out of Christendom and you have barbarism. May God help us to recognize the friendship of Jesus Christ. Let us place our lives and all our talents at His disposal, giving thanks to God always for all the riches of His grace in Christ Jesus.

LA CRESCENTA NOTES

"Be Ye Thankful" was Bishop Stevens' interesting theme at the organization and first services of the new Episcopal church at the school auditorium yesterday morning. Bishop Stevens in his sermon dwelt much upon the natural beauty of the La Crescenta valley and the privilege of living here should be much cause for thankfulness.

Dr. Robert Kenison of Eagle Rock assisted Bishop Stevens at the services, and in conducting the Holy Communion, Miss Helen Minton of Hollywood was soloist. The Sunday school was organized under the direction of Deaconess Greebe. An exceptionally large attendance marked the opening services yesterday morning, residents from Montclair, Verdugo Knolls and Fontrose taking active part in the services. Dr. Noble of Pasadena will have charge of the local church for the present.

The La Crescenta Aeolian Music club held their monthly meeting at the home of Miss Marguerite Hauber last Friday evening. The entire club attended the concert at the Community church and enjoyed the splendid program given by Miss Ebeley Weaver, Mrs. Alice Stockhold Reed, Miss Margaret Brown and Mr. William Reed, returning later to Miss Hauber's home for refreshments.

Mr. Howard Reynolds of North Rosemont avenue returned last Friday from an extended trip through the east. Mr. Reynolds was away three months.

The local touch football team again defeated the junior team of the Glendale avenue school last Friday in Glendale. This is the second game the La Crescenta team has won over Glendale.

The Missionary Society of the Community church will hold their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. E. G. Foy on East Piedmont avenue next Friday afternoon. In the future the society will hold their meetings in their new home in the Community church on West Montrose avenue.

Mrs. Edwin K. Harris, Jr., of Cedar street, and Mrs. C. G. Guitard of 524 Patterson avenue were entertained at luncheon Friday by Mrs. G. A. Mangum of Annandale.

FAMILY DAY AND THANKSGIVING AT CENTRAL CHRISTIAN

November 25 was a great occasion at Central Christian church, for it was not only Thanksgiving Sunday but also Family Day. Rev. Cole had announced that he would present a copy of "The Life of Archibald McLean" to the head of the largest family present. H. E. Cox of 605 East Lomita was the recipient. He had his wife and their five children present, but this is an every-Sunday occurrence with this faithful family.

The pastor chose as a text for his sermon Joshua's declaration: "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." He said in part: "The father should always be the leader in Christian work in the home today, as in the past, when the home was the church. The Christian family is the noblest asset of the American nation, the highest type of citizenship. The family is a divine institution and family worship was ordained by God. Its decadence in these days is a menace to the home and to the nation. If every family will become a little church, the church will soon become one big family."

After the morning service ended a bountiful lunch was partaken of in the social hall of the church by all who chose to remain, after which, around the tables, members told of when, where and how they became Christians. Rev. J. W. Utter, founder of the Glendale church and its first pastor, then gave a splendid talk, reminding his hearers of the many blessings they enjoy in this beautiful land and how thankful they should be every day of their lives.

In the evening a wonderful service of songs was given by the choir—anthems, solos and quartets. The Kiwanis club members were present and Rev. Cole gave them a warm welcome, then talked a little while on Thanksgiving topics. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Viva Lee Weidman, is making remarkable progress, as was amply demonstrated on this occasion.

CHILD DANCERS ENTERTAINED BY MRS. M. B. JONES

Children who are on the way to becoming finished musicians and who are already organized as an auxiliary of the Glendale Music club, were entertained Saturday to the number of 36 at the home of the president of the parent organization, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones on Kenneth.

A program arranged by Mrs. Pearl Curran which did credit to the youngsters who contributed it was given as follows:

Piano solo, "Amorita" (Homer Grum) played by Margaret Drennan.

Piano solo, "Spinning Song" (Eisenreich) by Rita Schroeder.

Piano solo, "Hungarian Dance" (Brahms) by Jane Thimm.

Piano solo, "Land of the Sky Blue Waters" (Cadman) Julia Peiley.

Vocal solo, "Kentucky Babe" (Gebel) by Katherine Henry.

Piano solo, "Land of the Sky Blue Waters" (Cadman) Julia Peiley.

Piano solo, "Curious Story" (Heller) Cleone Barton.

Piano solo, "El Captain" by Eleanor Marek.

Piano solo, "Hungarian Dance" (Brahms) by Jane Thimm.

Piano solo, "Life of Bach" by Genevieve Marek.

Piano solo, "To a Wild Rose" (MacDowell) Vera Lockwood.

Reading, "Three Little Chestnuts" by Phyllis Forrester.

Piano solo, "Alabama Cabin" (Cadman) Eloise Knaus.

Games were played on the lawn and refreshments were served in the north porch. It was a real party enjoyed by the adults present almost as much as by the children. The next meeting will be at the home of Eloise Knaus on Vine street, December 22, and will probably be Christmas music.

MELTING POT OF VERDUGO HILLS

"The Melting Pot of the Verdugo Hills," might well be the title of the story of Mrs. John S. Knox of 455 South Central avenue, Glendale, in relating her experiences of a hike from Tujunga to Glendale. Mrs. Knox had been spending the summer at the Knox ranch, "Rockwall Manor," in Tujunga and decided to return to Glendale on Tuesday for the winter, and to walk the entire distance. She brought home with her several pounds of grapes from the ranch. Leaving about noon on Tuesday and stopping to visit with those met along the way, Mrs. Knox states that at the first people she talked to after leaving the ranch were a Rumanian and a German. Next, she met a party from Liverpool, England, then a Frenchman, a Mexican and an American woman. She arrived home about 5 o'clock, tired but happy.

VALLEY MARKET OFFERING FAT CORN-FED TURKS

Nice fat, corn-fed turkeys fresh from the ranch. That is offering of the Valley Market, 806 South Brand boulevard, for your Thanksgiving dinner. H. Nicolai, one of the proprietors of the market, has a large ranch near Delano, from which a large shipment of fine birds has just been received, and these will be offered at wholesale prices for the coming holiday. They are being handled by Clifford Clavin, owner and proprietor of the meat department of the market, who also has a full line of high grade fresh and smoked meats, sold at reasonable prices.

Mr. Nicolai states that these are the finest that were raised on the ranch, being strictly corn-fed, and fattened especially for the well-known Thanksgiving hatchery. Mince meat, pumpkin, fancy fruits and vegetables, and, in fact, everything that goes to make up a complete Thanksgiving dinner are in stock in this new and sanitary market.

NEW BOOKS ON MANY SUBJECTS AT THE LIBRARY

Like the magic carpet, only in this case it being the printer's ink used in some of the recent books added to the many interesting volumes at the Glendale public library, on Harvard street, one may be transported in mind at least to those interesting places in the many lands that everyone has a latent desire to be able to visit some day. A wealth of good things may be found at the library for those who are looking for them. Among the recent volumes are the following:

"The Cathedrals of Central Italy," by T. Francis Bumpus. A real pleasure tour among the cathedrals and churches, where scenes are forgotten and pictures of pure loveliness are formed in the memory of the traveler. Another book by this same author is "The Cathedrals of England and Wales."

"Mont-Saint-Michel and Chartres," by Henry Adams.

"Ancient Egyptian, Assyrian and Persian Costume," by M. G. Houston and P. S. Hornblower.

"The Mystery of the Oriental Rug," by Dr. G. Griffin Lewis.

"A Far Country," by Winston Churchill, deals without restraint with the vital issues confronting the twentieth century in a story that is tense and dramatic.

"Modern Essays," selected with preface and biographical notes by Christopher Morley.

"Woman Suffrage and Politics," by Carrie Chapman Catt and Nettie Rogers Shuler. The inner story of the woman suffrage movement in America.

"Animated Cartoons," telling how they are made, their origin and development, by E. G. Lutz.

"Poster Design," by Charles Macklack Price.

"Abraham, Lincoln as a Man of Letters," by Luther Emerson Robinson, M. A. The author points out the literary significance of Lincoln's life and works. He also analyzes the outstanding letters, speeches and state papers of the great war president.

"Cross-Sections," by Julian Street. In this the author gives his first collection of short fiction.

"Treasure Trail," by Frederick Niven, a story of adventure.

"The Man From Painted Post," a story of the west, by Joseph B. Ames.

"Island of Destiny," by Arthur J. Reese.

"Oliver October," by George Barr McCutcheon, the writer of romance.

"Tut, Tut! Mr. Tut," by Arthur Train. A story of the cunning and kind old lawyer, Mr. Tut, who is one of the most beloved characters in the history of fiction.

"Doors of the Night," by Frank L. Packard. How one man was both the notorious leader and hunted prey of New York's underworld.

"Topless Towers," by Margaret Ashmun. A romance of Morningside Heights. The story of two bachelor girls and their life in a New York apartment.

"The Light Guitar," by Arthur Guiterman, who is becoming known as the most American of all poets.

"Wise of Hearts," by Ethel Colburn Mayne. Nine stories about nine women's hearts, "perfect etching" of feminine character.

VALLEY MARKET OFFERING FAT CORN-FED TURKS

Nice fat, corn-fed turkeys fresh from the ranch. That is offering of the Valley Market, 806 South Brand boulevard, for your Thanksgiving dinner. H. Nicolai, one of the proprietors of the market, has a large ranch near Delano, from which a large shipment of fine birds has just been received, and these will be offered at wholesale prices for the coming holiday. ## KIWANIS CLUB'S DINNER DANCE TO BE ELABORATE

Tonight Glendale's Kiwanis club has its annual Thanksgiving dinner dance which will be the most elaborate function it has given thus far. It is taking place in the banquet hall of the Tuesday Afternoon club at 7 o'clock where covers will be laid for 150 members, their wives and invited guests.

Robert Adams has arranged charge of the affair and has arranged a program of entertainment which will feature Glen Hood, the well-known entertainer at Camp Curry in the Yosemite Valley, who will be accompanied by a special orchestra. There will be contests, the nature of which have been kept very dark by the committee, and prizes will be awarded the victors.

General ballroom dancing will of course be enjoyed in the interludes between courses and following the dinner. A. L. Ferguson is the president of this thriving business luncheon club.

"FALL OF MAN" IS LESSON TOPIC OF KEITH L. BROOKS

The temptation and fall of man was the topic discussed by Keith L. Brooks at the Presbyterian Brotherhood class Sunday morning.

"We take up today the study of one of the darkest days in the world's history, the day when sin entered the human race. Someone is ever asking, 'Might it not have been averted? It is of not use to reason, for sin is here.'"

"God created man perfect and innocent, happy in his delightful surroundings and with his beautiful companion. Desiring from man the trustful obedience of a child, not the enforced obedience of a slave, God gave him the power of choice, with a full warning of the consequences of a wrong choice. When a wrong choice was made, He gave his severest condemnation to the tempter, not the deluded victim. He immediately revealed Himself in grace, providing a plan of redemption and giving a promise of final triumph. He allotted to man a sentence that would make for his highest good under the circumstances."

"The adversary of man is truly represented under the name of serpent. A serpent can outclimb a monkey, outswim the fish, outleap the zebra, crush the tiger and outwrestle the athlete. It is the very omnipotence of the earth and suggests demon power. In all his subtlety, the adversary came upon the woman when she was alone. He did not want man and woman together, for they would strengthen one another in obedience to God. One another in obedience to God. Had he tackled man first and then through him got his woman, she would have had an excuse, for man had been placed over her. The devil knew there was but one way to bend Adam and that was through him got the woman, she. He would yield to her entreaties if for no other reason than to share in her fate."

"The enemy of man's soul still comes to him with the same old question, 'Hail God said? Admit a question as to the veracity of God and a contradiction of him is sure to be the next step. 'Whatever we sow that shall we also reap,' is a basic law, yet there is no truth of God so clear that the devil does not dare to contradict it, and there are always multitudes ready to believe his lies."

The adversary told Adam and Eve that by following him they should become as gods. It is still his special business to persuade men that they may be as gods, may excel alone, be independent, commanded by none, give account to none. He would get men to depend on themselves alone for that which God alone can give.

"When man had fallen, God came seeking him in his lost condition. The wonder of wonders is that God desired man's presence. Satan's life gave occasion for the display of the love of God. From this point on through to the close of the Bible it is God in the person of His divine Son seeking for ruined man."

THANKSGIVING IS SERMON THEME AT BROADWAY M. E.

Rev. L. J. Millikan, pastor of the Broadway Methodist church, in keeping with the spirit of Thanksgiving, preached an appropriate sermon yesterday morning, taking for his scripture text "What Shall I Render Unto the Lord For All His Benefits Toward Me?" He said in part: "How becoming it is for a Christian nation to, at a stated time, stop and lift its head to Almighty God in humble thanksgiving for His blessings and indulgences. It has been the custom for a long time, for our nation to practice this habit. We have been the recipients during the past year of so many, many divinely given blessings, all of which call for Thanksgiving, that it seems to me we are more than ever before obligated to thank Him on bended knee, and with our heads uplifted toward heaven, praise Him from the depths of our hearts. God has given to us as a nation, every blessing an unselfish man could ask for. Our store-houses are well filled, prosperity is all around us, we do not hear the roar of the cannon in cruel warfare and we are at peace with all the world.

"Among other things for which we should give thanks is the beauty of nature on every hand and this is no more nor less than God's divine law in motion, and all for the benefit of mankind. "Some Christians are inclined to exercise such little faith when the hour of imaginary misfortune comes. They should remember the example of Elijah whose faith in God caused even the birds of the air to feed him. So intent are some on borrowing trouble they try to starve to death in advance. "We should be very grateful that God made us in His own image, put His divine stamp upon us, but greatest of all that He made man His partner for the salvation of the world. What an honor! Our co-partnership with Jesus Christ will not, and cannot, be satisfactory to God unless we put Him first. That business man who will "put God first" is the only really successful business man. Nor should we endeavor to deceive God. One of the most pitiful sights in all the world is a man trying to cover up his sins.

"Jesus Christ came into the world as a man. He conquered and so can we. But if we would conquer we must render an exalted and unselfish service."

"HANKIE" CARRYING DOG HAS COME UPON THE SCENE

A new use for dogs has been found in Glendale. We all know of the flap dog, the coach dog, and the watch dog, but a new kind of a dog has come to the fore. What a shame it has not been discovered heretofore, for it would have been such a "friend in need." Now just remember this, ladies. If at any time you are lacking a receptacle in which to carry that feminine necessity, the pocket "hankie," just purchase a dog or two, dress 'em up in blankets and teach Fido or Rover to carry your handkerchief daintily in one corner of his canine mouth. Such was seen in the downtown district of Glendale on Saturday night. It created quite a sensation among the bystanders.

JEWISH SISTERHOOD PLANS MUSICAL

A charming musical evening is being planned by the Jewish Sisterhood of Glendale for Wednesday, November 28th. Through the courtesy of Mrs. E. W. ### HUMANITY SOCIETY MEETING POSTPONED

The meeting of the Glendale Humanity Society scheduled for Tuesday night has been postponed.

"OH-HO" TO RANK AS FINEST YET SAYS AUTHORITY

Starting with a rah! rah! rah! not unlike a championship football game, the "Oh-Ho" college musical extravaganza gets off to a regular whirlwind of a start and the fun keeps up for the entire two and a quarter hours of the play. Interspersed with the comedy action are 24 musical numbers that are very tuneful and a list of fascinating dances that are certain to please.

The "Oh-Ho" show, according to Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, chairman of the show committee, is expected to rank as the finest thing that has ever been done in local talent theatricals in Glendale. Reports from the show, that it is certain to the effect that "Oh-Ho" has been the biggest success in nearly every city of California, including San Diego, Pasadena, Riverside, Fresno, Stockton, Sacramento, Oakland and San Francisco.

"Oh-Ho" is scheduled for the Tuesday afternoon club theatre two weeks hence. So great is the interest in the show, and so popular are the 60 participants taking part in the show, that it is certain the production will play to capacity business at its engagement here.

Mrs. Charles Parker, Mrs. Malburn Barker, Mrs. R. A. Puffer, Jr., have the leading feminine roles, while the chief comedians of the show are Joe Griffin, Captain D. Ripley Jackson and Jack Stafford. However, the other 57 members of the cast all have entertaining parts in the show, that they are doing capably, and adding to the general joy of the show.

"Oh-Ho" will be a good thing, to keep in mind for a most enjoyable evening early next month, as all Glendale is sure to be there for this production.

EAGLE ROCK NOTES

On Wednesday afternoon the annual Thanksgiving holiday for all the schools in Eagle Rock and vicinity will begin. Occidental will open up again on Monday, December 3. The Eagle Rock grammar schools will do likewise, and Glendale has always had the rest of the week off for Thanksgiving. This will give college men and women a chance to get home, and as many of them live a considerable distance away, they do not get there often. Some get home only during Christmas holidays.

An accident occurred at the culvert on Colorado boulevard near Victoria avenue last Friday night in which Christ Wilpott of 1150 North Pacific avenue, Glendale, had his machine turned over, pinning four people underneath. The culvert is about 12 feet from the curb line toward the center of the street and is easily overlooked at night. On November 2 a car ran into this same culvert, but no one was hurt very badly.

The police department's latest report shows that Loyd Colton of 2356 East Colorado boulevard has had his bicycle stolen from the basement of his residence. It was stolen between Nov. 21 and 24. It is of the De Luxe make, red and white frame, and has a New Departure brake. The number is 720105.

Miss Bess Brown entertained Friday evening at a pleasant birthday dinner party given in honor of her father, L. T. Brown, formerly of Scranton, Pa. Mr. Brown Friday reached his seventy-sixth year. He has lived here just one and one-half years. Among those present at last evening's affair were the honoree, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Madigan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Perry and mother, Mr. Arthur Leonard, Mrs. Van Housen and niece, Miss Meredith Brown, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Brown of Glendale and Mrs. Maude Phillips, who assisted the hostess, and Miss Brown.

Frank Turner is planning to leave Tuesday evening for San Francisco to join his wife. He will probably remain until Mrs. Turner is sufficiently recovered from her recent illness to return to Montrose.

Mr. P. B. Watkins and a party of friends left early last evening for a few days' hunting near Big Bear lake. They expect to bring home a good many ducks and wild geese.

Several Montrose people witnessed a silent but eloquent drama Friday morning, which might be termed "undelivered goods." An innocent looking Chevrolet touring car, occupied by a couple of two innocent looking individuals pursued its way northward from Glendale along the Verdugo road. It was followed closely by a Hudson car occupied by two men. Arriving at Montrose the Chevrolet was driven into a service station for air and water. The Hudson also stopped at the station for air and bootleg. Stepping out of the Hudson car the two gentlemen walked quietly up to the Chevrolet, shoved a gun into the faces of its occupants, revealed two shining badges, and climbed into the machine. They found several gallons of bootleg hidden in the rear of the automobile. Then without so much as a word passing between the actors in the drama the federal officers directed the jolly bootleggers to drive on—to the station. And somewhere in the hills is a disappointed tippler whose "firewater" remains undelivered.

J. D. Richard, representing the Red River Lumber company, was a business visitor in Montrose Saturday. Mr. Richard was in search of suitable locations on which to erect a number of ready-cut houses which are being widely featured by the Red River company. He stated that it was his plan to build three of the houses at once in Oak Park, and as soon as they are completed it is probable that the company will have at least two hundred of the new style ready-cut houses erected in Montrose and vicinity.

Had it not been for the little Boston bull pup of A. A. Stoner which was left alone to mind the house for a few minutes Saturday, the Stoner home might have been in ashes. Leaving the pup in the house, Mrs. Stoner stepped out to the store. It seems that she had been ironing and instead of turning off the electric current on the iron, had turned it on by mistake. It was but a few moments after she left that the ironing board was smoking, and a paper left under the iron was in flames. It fell to the floor and caught a corner of the dining room rug. The pup, scenting excitement, caught up an end of the flaming paper and began to yelp, running with it past the window. A neighbor, hearing the pup glancing through the window, saw the burning paper and rushed to the rescue. The pup was not at all loath to give up his plaything which in the fun had singed his whiskers and nipped his nose.

From the looks of things nearly half of Montrose attended the dance given in Glendale Saturday evening by the Rebekahs. Among those from Montrose who enjoyed the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Jennings Young, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Stoner and Miss Gladys Stoner, Alvin and Charles Vilmer, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy R. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Geo. Charbonneau and Miss Matthews.

A number of the young men of Montrose who are interested in sports are enthusiastically working out plans for a community athletic club which they hope to establish here if a suitable location can be found. To Mr. Hawley as L. E. Eyre belongs the credit for the idea of such an organization and they, with several others, are endeavoring to ascertain just how many would be interested in a club. It would of course be a non-profit organization with regular membership and officers elected by the members. If there are any who are proficient in any line of sport that could be handled in the club and would be willing to instruct others they are asked to get in touch with either Mr. Eyre or Mr. Hawley at the Reinhard market, or with Joe Belanger at the drug store.

"Great Marriage Feast" Rev. Kringle's Theme

Rev. Henry O. Kringle occupied the pulpit of the Zion Lutheran congregation Sunday morning and selected for his theme "The Great Marriage Feast." A good audience was present.

The speaker said in part: "Many are called but few are chosen. These words have caused many Christians who were much concerned about their eternal welfare much worry; while to people who cared nothing for their eternal welfare it has served as a welcome excuse for securely living in sin. For many Christian have thought, if those who enter heaven are the chosen, and if these chosen really are, as Christ says, but few; are not my chances of being saved few also? Even if I lead the life of a true Christian, vigorously separate from the world, and freely expose myself to the contempt and hatred of hypocrites—if I am not chosen—if I am not one of them few—all my efforts are in vain."

"The goddess, on the other hand, have reasoned similarly, but with a somewhat different result. As they are not much worried over their future state, they could only seize upon these words as a welcome pretext for sinning worse than before. 'If we are chosen,' they have said, 'we will surely enter heaven any way. If we are only called, our damnation is already assured. So what is the use of a Christian life?' 'Are these people right? No, they are both wrong, the Christians aforementioned and also the unbelievers, because a closer study of our text will clearly show that the fact that many are not chosen can work neither despair in the hearts of Christians nor indifference in the hearts of unbelievers. This is clear from the kind of people who are not chosen, and also from the reasons why they are not chosen.

"What kind of people are not chosen? The people 'who made light of the marriage feast,' and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise, and the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them. Even if it were no parable; if these people had only done this to an earthly king, he would have been justified in his wrath. Even at the court of mild Queen Victoria any invitation on her part was looked upon as a command.

"But we are dealing with a parable. The king is no less than God Himself. The marriage is no less an event than the union of the god-head and manhood in Christ. The wedding feast comprises all the grace, mercy, righteousness, joy, and delight which this union has brought upon man, and without which man would have remained eternally separated from God, dead in sin, a child of death and eternal damnation. Whosoever, therefore, makes light of this invitation, loves darkness more than light; would rather amass dollars than accept God's grace; would rather toll under the curse in sin than live in the light of God's gracious countenance in righteousness; would rather use his tongue to talk evil than to praise Christ, who was crucified for the sins of the world. I say, can the fact that such people are not chosen, but that they are to be 'destroyed and their city burned' work despair in the heart of any true Christian or indifference in the heart of any unbeliever? No, indeed!

"May God grant that we all turn to Him with all our heart, that we rejoice to be clad in Jesus' blood and righteousness, and that, clad in it, we joyfully enter the festival hall and patiently await the appearance of the great King and His Son, Jesus Christ. If a man accepts Christ in true faith, he will have no trouble finding himself among the chosen."

Mrs. S. J. Mosher of Pomona, accompanied by Miss Ella, spent Saturday and Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. James F. McBryde, and her son, Frank. The Mosher family lived at 111 North Central, Glendale, for many years.

THE END OF COOK

Dr. Frederick A. Cook, once famous as an Arctic explorer, and later infamous as a stupendous liar, has been sentenced to serve fourteen years and nine months in a federal penitentiary. In addition to this the court fined him $12,000, the collection of which probably will be difficult. It also treated the prisoner to a scathing rebuke that to an individual of ordinary instincts, would have seemed as terrible as any part of the penalty.

The temporary success of Cook in winning the money of thoughtless investors eager for quick returns must be ascribed largely to the greed and stupidity of the dupes. Exposure of the Cook character had been complete, and heralded around the world. He pretended to have reached the north pole, never having been near it. Before that he proclaimed that he had made the ascent of Mt. McKinley, although he never had done so. As one of a party making the attempt, he had abandoned his comrades, retraced his steps while yet they were trying to go forward, and published the false story of his success, backing it by pictures falsely labeled. This incident should have been enough to discredit him. Such was his brazen assurance, however, that he later constructed the figment of Arctic discovery, and for a time proudly wore the laurels that deluded scientific bodies had bestowed upon him. In the end these were stripped from him. Then Cook turned up as an oil promoter. Money poured in upon him. The persons who advanced it never saw it again, nor any part of it. As wisely might they have dumped it into the out-fall sewer. They had been robbed.

Doubtless there still are opportunities to invest in oil. If such seem to be proffered by men known to be rogues and charlatans, the circumstance ought to arouse a sense of caution.

ABOUT EQUAL RIGHTS

Men desire that women should have whatever they want. There is no attempt to show that the granting of the franchise was not just and wise. There is a willingness also, that is more than mere acquiescence in the idea, that women should be absolutely protected in their property, be accorded their full share of community holdings, and have control of their own. The confession may as well be made freely that touching these matters the civil code has not yet been fully adjusted to the status of women as citizens. This lack is being overcome, however.

When ever and beyond all these things, the Mesdames Belmont of the land set up a cry for equality, the average male is puzzled. It is impossible for him to gather from anything any Mrs. Belmont says, what she wants. She utters a cry of discontent, a little strained note is, tinged by acrimony. But concerning that about which she is discontented, she withholds explanation. The woman in question, taken as an example, has no case for herself. She has lived a life of luxury, devoid of any necessity either for work or for worry as to the source of funds to promote and fortify the suave serenity of her existence. The tyrant man had made provision for her. But for him she might have belonged to other orders than the army of the pampered idler.

Laws of nature prevail over any that may be written into the books. It doubtless is fortunate that men and women are different. It is not a regrettable circumstance that the spectacle of a woman digging in a ditch or driving a garbage wagon would be displeasing to the masculine beholder, and the experience contrary to her own tastes. To be more deferential to a woman than to a man is the answer to an instinctive impulse. Yet some of the recipients of the courtesy intended as a compliment, seem to resent it, and to wish to have the statutes inhibit it.

DIPLOMA MILLS

From time to time there have been exposures of "diploma mills." These institutions turn out so-called graduates certificated to be equipped as lawyers, doctors or members of other professions requiring a high degree of skill. The most serious evil probably is in relation to the bogus doctors. The pretended lawyer is not likely to thrive, and as he endeavors to do so, plies his vocation without fatal results. Into the hands of the doctor there is given almost the power of life and death.

Recently a patient died under ether in the office of a practitioner of medicine in Connecticut. The anaesthetic had been administered as preliminary to a minor operation involving a crushed finger. It is said to have been the first operation he had undertaken, and his first experience in the use of ether. The allegation also is made that the only credentials held by the doctor were the assurances of his fitness issued by one of the more notorious of these "diploma mills," a concern located, and for reasons unknown, tolerated in Missouri.

Naturally the accused is entitled to a full and fair hearing. For a patient to succumb to the shock of anaesthesia is far from being unprecedented. It may have been due in this instance to some weakness that even the properly trained surgeon could have been unable to detect in advance. But the public also has rights in the matter. Certainly it has the right to be safeguarded against the ignoramus who assumes to know something of the science of medicine.

It is a singular thing if state authorities, aware of the activity of a diploma mill, are unable to abate the nuisance by methods similar to those by which less dangerous nuisance are abated.

ALWAYS PLOTTING

According to a Paris paper, England is planning an alliance with Spain and Italy for encircling France, just as France has encircled Germany through alliances with Belgium, Poland and the nations of the "little entente."

Scheming, scheming. Why cannot diplomacy discern the wisdom of being honest and open? The same decency that prevails as between individuals seldom seems to color the dealings of governments with governments. The intent invariably is to get the advantage. Promotion of mutual concerns does not come to mind. The merging of interests so that they shall be held in absolute common, is spurned even if suggested.

The situation in Europe confirms the necessity for a league, an association, or at least, a court of nations backed by all the force necessary for the execution of its mandates. Maximilian Harden goes further, and calls for a United States of Europe; grand ideal but futile call for the present. Generations hence, many generations, perhaps the dream may be realized.

Civilization needs moral leadership. It is logical to look for this to be the wealthiest and most powerful of countries. Had such leadership not been withheld, it is probable that the confusion that marks all Europe never had come into existence. The trend was towards peace. The hope was for uniform justice. Reliance was placed upon the United States, that was honored by such display of confidence, but declined to accept responsibility. Was this a noble course? There are many who think not, but who think the action thus far has been not only unwise, but cowardly.

If the structure reared by civilization is to stand it will have to rest upon the firm foundation afforded by two continents. The European element of civilization is threatened with extinction. Were it to fall, the portion left on the other continent could not be whole and stable, but a remnant. The interests are too many and too intimate to leave an assurance that even the width of an ocean could stay the process of decay.

Delusions About Conscience

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

A gentleman who writes "a number of things that sound true until examined has announced that "everybody is born with a conscience."

Whew. How many people has that man examined closely?

Everybody born with a conscience. Thomas, hand me the smelling salts.

The writer of that sentence is challenged by all human history—which by the way has largely been made by people who not only had no consciences but kept the world full of the smell of the roasting flesh of those who had. A young, vigorous, active and conscientious human conscience, independent and unafraid, is today about as popular as a small-pox patient in a Turkish bath house.

Because of this unique fact most people who find themselves likely to develop conscience put them to sleep with anaesthetics early in life and go gaily forth to disport themselves in the green and succulent fields of personal gain unincumbered by anything so disturbing as conscience.

However, we all plead guilty to being guided by something that we call a conscience. This is a well-trained possession that rolls over in public when told to do so, is equipped with a full complement of company manners and divers niceties of speech which never by any possibility offend anybody whom it would be inconceivable to offend. Society people have two sets of diamonds, a genuine set which they keep in the bank and a paste set which they wear to the ball. The first is an investment; the second a notice to all and sundry that we possess the means to wear crystallized carbon.

It's the same with conscience. When we possess the genuine article we are likely to file it away for safe keeping and use the imitation, hand broken, circus trained duplicate for daily contacts.

If you doubt this study a genuine conscience for a bit and then compare its reactions with the society and business and professional consciences that you meet in the market places of the world.

If anybody was born with a regulation conscience that acted as unfailingly according to law as, say, the lungs or the circulatory system we would need no League of Nations and no divorce courts, no jails and no almshouses.

The fact is that everybody is born with a desire to get by in comfort and he trains a conscience to meet the exigencies of his position; but if by chance one is born with clear vision and sympathy he is likely to let justice dictate the training of his conscience. In justice case he becomes one of the immortals or dies on the scaffold as the fates decide. Of such stuff were Jesus Christ, John Huss, Savonarola, Martin Luther, Henry Bergh, Joan of Arc and the entire list of saints and martyrs.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

It is funny—funny to me, anyhow—how a man who can take a Greek root up by its tail and snap it like a whip, and can paddle right through the broader anaesthetics of mathematics, and is up on the neighborhood gossip of nations that have been dead forty or fifty centuries can make such a colossal noodle of himself on the facts of everyday life.

"No young man," a person described in the daily press as a widely known educator recently said, "should marry on less than $4000 a year."

If all the good, kind papers have said about the salaries paid college professors, is true not one in a thousand should marry, then. And not many of our ministers. And about one clerk in ninety. And no longshoremen, truck drivers, milkmen, motormen, freight brakemen, baggage huffers, farm hands, or table waiters at all. And if all of these gentry were so informed by hard, polished, granite common sense as to realize that they should not marry on less than $4000 a year some of them would assuredly be filled with venom whenever they contemplated the lucky devils who were able to cross the financial dead-line. Whereupon the eminent professor might awake some morning to find that the converts to his theory had jolly well wrung his eminent neck.

"We didn't have $4000 a year when we married," said Mrs. Pilgrim, "and I think the happiest years of our lives were those we spent in circumventing the dollar devil."

There isn't a successful man I know, barring the few who inherited money, who had a salary of $4000 a year when he got married. That lack of money spurred him. It kept him up on his toes. And many a man who earned too much money when he was a mere pup flattened out because of it. Too much money too early is like forcing tomatoes under glass. The characters don't keep. But that dear old professor would be a marvel if he turned his light somewhere about B. C.

THE LISTENING POST

Between what we want and what we need there is a great gulf. Sometimes an almost immeasurable distance. For our wants are likely to be many. Our needs few.

Our wants compass almost the range of things made by man. Our needs are mostly things of the spirit.

We need bread of course. Food. And we need shelter. Warmth and light. And we need raiment. Much or little as our senses dictate. Fine or common as we value raiment for its fineness or its practical use.

We need some business or job or occupation. That is essential. Otherwise we shall be parasitic. Useless.

Living upon the toil of others. And we need some love and friendliness and understanding and sympathy.

Our needs after all are supplied with no great difficulty. Our real needs are simple. Not too costly.

A fair measure of work for the world and our needs are supplied. With a little over.

Friendship we can gain by deserving it. Practicing it. Believing in it. Doing little services and kindnesses that hal-low and mellow it.

We need make no great outlay of money to prove friendship. Or to gain it.

We can eat only three meals a day. And they need not be too costly. The more simple they are the better health we are likely to have. So long as they are well balanced and nourishing.

For we need physical nourishment. But that is a need that can be supplied.

But our wants! Those are the things that call upon our resources. Material things.

Motor cars and houses and elaboration and social position and rings and bracelets and gew-gaws. Far and away they are beyond our needs.

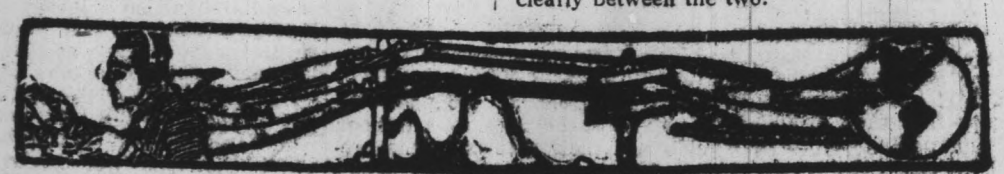

It is the wants of people that sap strength and engulf savings and use up wages. Not the needs. We want so many things.

For one purpose or another. For the gratification of vanity. For what we think is pleasure. For show and all that.

So there is a great gulf between our wants and our needs. And the better we circumscribe our wants the better our real needs are satisfied.

And we are most likely to be happy when we want the fewest things. For things are poured often into an empty spirit and leave it emptier than before.

Wants and needs. There is a wide gulf between them. And many of us do not learn to distinguish clearly between the two.

Songs of the Poets

A Birthday—By Christina Georgina Rossetti

My heart is like a singing bird
Whose nest is in a water'd shoot;
My heart is like an apple-tree
Whose boughs are bent with thick-set fruit;
My heart is like a rainbow shell
That paddles in a halcyon sea;
My heart is gladder than all these,
Because my love is come to me.

Raise me a dais of silk and down;
Hang it with vair and purple dyes;
Carve it in doves and pomegranates,
And peacocks with a hundred eyes;
Work it in gold and silver grapes,
In leaves and silver fleurs-de-lys;
Because the birthday of my life
Is come, my love, is come to me.

THE FAMILY

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THERE is an Idea of an oak tree in every acorn. In each manifestation of its growth the thing that rules and determines is that Tree-Idea.

So in every growing thing there lurks in its instincts the Idea of the perfected organism. This is what Benjamin Kidd calls "the principle of Projected Efficiency."

Thus it is the Future that controls development; it is what a plant or animal is going to be, and not what it is, that disposes its growth.

Now Society, of the Human Race, may be called an organism, or growing thing. And I believe that the Idea, the Norm, that is drawing to itself all social and racial development, is the Idea of the Family.

It is the Family Idea that is purging our theology of all its cruelties and artificialities, drawing us to the notion of one God who is a Father, and men who are His Children.

The Family is the Norm of Government. The final, ideal Government shall be upon the model of the Family. This is the "one, divine, far-off event, to which the whole creation moves." It is the feeling at the bottom of all dreams of Tolstoy, Edward Bellamy, Henry George, the socialists, the communists and the Christians.

The industrial world will have no permanent peace until it rests upon a Family basis. The thing Capital and Labor have to learn is that they are brothers. Competition is a foundation of sand; co-operation, of rock.

If it may take a long time, but God is in no hurry, Robert Burns, child of the soil, saw the Ultimate Truth, and brushing aside all the prejudice, hatred, selfishness and inhumanity, cried:

"For a' that, and a' that,
It's comin' yet, for a' that,
That man to man shall brothers be,
The world o'er, for a' that!"

One thing that is seriously forgotten or overlooked is the

It was a mean trick to fill a box supposed to contain films with a lot of wickedly intoxicating liquor.

Los Angeles police have caught a female burglar. The incident is embarrassing, the city jail affording no accommodation suitable for a lady.

Conditions in China are said to be chaotic. However, that country has no monopoly on chaos.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

HARRISON SEES IT

[Springfield Union]

For once in his vociferous career, Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi finds himself in sympathy with a republican administration project. He is for the world court, proposed by the late President Harding and favored by his successor, President Coolidge. Moreover, he declares that sentiment in the senate is so strong for the world court that if the project failed at once, this is an astonishing attitude on the part of the Mississippi senator, who heretofore, as a matter of principle, has assailed every republican project or proposal, regardless of its nature or the merits it possessed.

WHAT WAS IT FOR?

[National Republican]

Ambassador Herrick says that if we do not stay in Europe and straighten out unwilling European powers that object to being straight, to what purpose did we enter the war in 1917? An increasingly large number of people are wondering, but that's no fault of the soldiers who won a war only to have a bunch of misguided politicians lose the peace. The American people are weary of making sacrifices in behalf of people who only despise them for it and persist in prostituting the victory we helped win in unworthy, selfish and destructive purposes.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

One thing that causes a certain element of citizenship to look upon prohibition with hostile eye, is the apparent unfairness of its operation in instances.

Many men who in former days were accustomed to moderate indulgence now abstain utterly. Some do this from principle, believing that the contempt for law shown by the bootlegger and his patron to be wrong. Others who might not hesitate to take a drink occasionally are afraid to do so lest the prevalent spurious liquor kill them.

But all the time there are people who are having all the liquor of every sort that they desire. Some of them are permitted under the law to do this because they were able to lay in stocks in advance. Prohibition means nothing to them. Recently a dancer asked formal permission to move about $1000 worth of alcoholic drinks from her home in Ithaca to New York city. Expecting to be in the latter place awhile, she sought to fortify herself against the ravages of thirst. At the same time the poor resident of the East Side caught with a pint on his hip goes to jail. These inequalities give the impression of unfairness.

Prohibition ought to be enforced now, because it is the law, and always enforced, if it remains the law. The process cannot be carried out perfectly when abundant drinks are available to one, and the neighbor of this one can get none, or is tempted by an intolerably rotten and dangerous brand. To the great majority, whisky and kindred stuff is outlaw. To the select minority, whisky and the rest are exactly as prior to prohibition, readily accessible and freely consumed.

Poet Stirling declares that the prevalence of divorce is a sign of intelligence. Which does not seem to be taking a very deep view of the subject.

Stirling holds a poet's license, but he is straining a point when he uses it to cover the utterances of this sort of prose.

Society note. In the Los Angeles county jail are 717 guests, each present by invitation. There are accommodations for but 250.

This is no way to treat guests. The county should be ashamed of its style of hospitality.

Everybody thinks well of Switzerland. The opinion is accentuated by the fact that the Swiss have been put on the blacklist of the Russian soviets.

So the high status of Switzerland is confirmed.

When the crew of a naval seaplane are dumped from a flaming machine into fifty fathoms of water, and all get safely to shore, they must be regarded as lucky. The navy loses a plane, but in the circumstances this is a trifling disaster.

While the population of Los Angeles has grown 40 per cent, the crime in that city has increased by 400 per cent.

Concerning the first item of growth there is considerable local pride, but the feeling in relation to the second figure is different.

A boy in Newark has been named "Frank Washington Boston Stop Newark D'Sole," his father being responsible.

A healthy youth and speedy maturity to the lad! By the time he is twenty-one he ought to be able to lick the old man for that.

The wife of a Kansas judge was arrested for speeding. She wanted to pay her fine at breakfast and regard the incident as closed. The husband exercised his judicial authority, and had her in court just like the other offenders. There he named and collected the fine.

Of course, nobody is privileged to peer into the privacy of a home, but it is safe to affirm that when his honor arrived there for dinner he found that the incident had not been closed, not by a long shot.

Perhaps it was a good thing that the ex-kaiser expressed a desire to go back to Germany, for it brought from the allies a unanimous protest. The hope of an understanding is promoted greatly when the allies again show that they are able to hold an opinion in common.

The return of the ex-crown prince apparently is not regarded as important. The tacit acknowledgement of his utility and lack of capacity for cutting ice, hardly is to be construed as a compliment.

Drivers of automobiles in passing school buildings often see a sign admonishing them to go slow. If in addition to the sign, they see a policeman, they are likely to heed the warning.

One of the drivers who ignored the sign the other day, and failed to perceive the policeman, has since gone to jail to stay ninety-five days; showing that a belief in signs is not always a superstition.

Many citizens of late have become amateur criminologists in the hope of helping to check the activities of the underworld. They have learned much that has surprised them. Police records, for example, show that many burglars are mere boys still in their teens, but so crazed by drugs as to be ready to kill if interrupted.

But the thought occurs that to carp at the ways of youth is to argue oneself an old fogey. So let the lads have a good time.

President Coolidge backs up General Wood in the Philippines.

One might have expected this. Wood has a hard job to hold down, but he is doing it with the skill of a diplomat and the courage of a soldier. This should win him commendation from the highest source.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

WE ARE THANKFUL

We are the children of the earth; our souls swell with the sheer beauty of it; our hearts sing in pure joy of living. Each day measured as a precious grain from out Time's guarded store—from challenging sunrise to serene sunset—fills us with a deep sense of dependence and a penetrating faith that we are cherished and well beloved.

For this we are thankful.

Rains wet the dry earth and hang each grass blade with jewels; fill each flower cup with soft rainbows; splash down the mountain sides and throw gray veils over the pleasant valleys. Straightway young growing things lift up their heads and rejoice in their being.

Truly for this we are thankful.

Winds, cool and clean sweep over us. Ripe leaves flutter and swirl and gently lie down on earth's bosom. Sails swell and strain; gallantly the ships ride to harbor. We tilt our faces and the keen caress brings color to our cheeks and a lift to our steps. 'Tis the breath of the universe softened to benediction.

For this, too, we are thankful.

Friends greet us; hold out warm welcoming hands and smile glad tidings into our eyes; pour good words into our eager ears; cheer our efforts and give us new hope.

Work comes to our hands and fills us with zeal and joy in the doing. We stretch our muscles, broaden our backs, lengthen our reach, that full power may flow from us and that the day's end finds us with a feeling of honest striving and contented weariness—finds us and leaves us with a sense of kinship with the Creator.

For these gifts we are deeply thankful.

The blue black sky of night bends over us. The stars that were long ere man was, and that will be long after his brief passage, mysterious and lovely beyond words, light our stumbling feet and lift and raise our burdened hearts toward heaven. Soft shadows fall about us. Peace and a great content dwell within us and we sleep as little children sleep—in forgetfulness and with no care of the morrow.

We offer to God our Thanksgiving.

We are the children of earth; thrilled by its beauty, challenged by its mystery, humbled by its power and inspired by its glory, we rejoice in our daily living. We bow this day in gratitude to the Creator.

For the gift of life we are humbly thankful.

Dear Fellow Citizen:

Have you "opened up your heart" and given generously to the Glendale Welfare Chest?

Do you know that in giving to the Chest, you are aiding in the support of the following organizations up to the amounts specified:

American Red Cross.....	$3000.00	Christian Circle Club.....	$ 600.00
American War Mothers....	300.00	Community Service.....	5000.00
American Legion Auxiliary	400.00	Glendale Welfare Bureau.	1000.00
Boy Scouts .....	7300.00	Jewish Charities .....	100.00
Bureau of Catholic Charities .....	2000.00	Salvation Army .....	2500.00
Children's Home Society of California .....	500.00	Women's Christian Temperance Union .....	300.00
Children's Hospital Society	1000.00	Young Men's Christian Association .....	8600.00

And in addition, providing for a reserve fund of $7400, which will take care of any demands that are recognized as worth while.

The Glendale Welfare Chest makes it possible for each one to "give only once a year," but in arriving at the amount subscribed, donors should not fail to carry their share by "giving enough for all."

While all organizations will receive the amounts specified in their budgets, should you prefer to designate any certain one of those that your subscription should go to, you may signify this desire and your wishes will be complied with.

The budget committee has been careful in their estimate and are asking the Glendale citizens for only $40,000, which, figured on a per capita basis, amounts to less than $1.00 for each. In Pasadena, a chest is in operation and they have secured an amount equal to $3.50 for each citizen.

If you have not yet subscribed to the Chest, or if you did subscribe, but not as much as you ought to, remember that the organizations the Chest will support are not to be looked upon as charities, but simply organizations which take care of those we are obligated to give aid to.

By mailing your check to us, time will be saved for both of us.

Yours faithfully,

GLENDALE WELFARE CHEST.

W. E. Hewitt, President.

An educated toe will win a football game when all the end runs, line plays and forward passes on earth are useless. This is known to any football follower, but to those not so well versed in the gridiron game it was demonstrated in the Glendale-San Bernardino game last Saturday. It was the educated toe of Howard Elliot that won the game for the Dynamiters when the Saints had a 10 to 9 lead early in the last period of the game. It was the brilliant kicking of this same Elliot that made the first score of the game early in the first period, giving Glendale a 3 to 0 lead. Again it was Elliot's boot that added three more points to Glendale's lead in the final period and clinched the game for the local eleven. Out of the fifteen points scored by Glendale nine were place kicks by the hard kicking fullback. The other score was a touchdown by his brother Bud, playing quarter. Time and again his been demonstrated. Andy Smith's California Bears have proved it to be so time and again when the educated toe of Bill Blewett or Jack Witter put the ball right square between the goal posts and won the game. In the California-Stanford game last Saturday, however, a queer incident occurred as a result of a bad kick. Bill Blewett was not up to his standard and booted a bad one. Stanford got possession of the ball and had to punt from behind their own goal line. Horrell of California blocked the kick and recovered the ball for a touchdown. Here is a case of a failure of a try for a field goal resulting in a touchdown. This happened again later when Blewett flizzed a kick. A bad kick gave Stanford the ball behind their own goal line, and Horrell nailed Cleveland there for a safety. Another amusing incident. The field goal would have netted three points, the safety from a rotten kick netted two.

REDLANDS WINS
OVER WHITTIER
IN 3 TO 0 GAME

The Redlands Bulldog sprang one of those surprises for which he is becoming noted, and defeated the Whittier Quakers in the closing conference game of the year for the two teams. The score was 3 to 0, the Redlands score being one of those field goals from Kemper Taylor's educated toe, the first he has been able to boot over this year because of his injured foot. It was Taylor's last game for his Alma Mater and a fitting finish of his four years as the outstanding star of the Bulldog eleven.

POMONA TAKES
GAME FROM OXY
BY 6 TO 0 SCORESagehens Defeat Tigers
And Tie for Conference Championship

By LESTER P. GRAFIOUS

Pomona College, after a hard battle, defeated the Occidental football team Saturday at Claremont by a score of 6 to 0. The game was a tie for the conference championship.

Pomona kicked off at the start of the game. A series of passes, caught by Ebers and Argue of Occidental, took the ball down the field. Argue tried an end run but was thrown for a loss, and the next play Pomona intercepted an Occidental pass and marched down the field to Occidental's 2-yard line. Here the Tigers stiffened and held them for four downs, chiefly through the work of Tarzan Riderhoff. The second half ended with the ball in the middle of the field and the score standing 0 to 0.

Occidental kicked off at the beginning of the third period. Pomona commenced an extremely fast attack and the game began to see-saw from one side to the other, finally culminating in the fourth quarter by a determined struggle by Pomona for a touchdown. An aerial attack gave the Sagehens a score but they failed to convert. Pomona 6, Occidental 0.

Then the Tiger offensive got busy. Oxy let loose and made a fast and furious march to the Pomona 4-yard line, where the Sagehens managed to withstand the attack and hold for four downs, kicking out of danger. The game was so far gone that Occidental did not have time to make another offensive before the whistle blew.

Thus ended the Occidental-Pomona game, the annual classic for the two colleges. A wonderful exhibition of college rooting was giving by both institutions between halves. The two teams were about evenly matched, although Occidental was rather crippled at the beginning of the game. Riderhoff, Spangler, Argue and Shoaf were

HACK AND BULL ARE READY FOR MATCH

John Hackenschmidt and Bull Montana are reported to be in first-class condition for their wrestling match tomorrow night in Hahn's auditorium, 109 North Brand. Both the grapplers were in attendance at the ball park yesterday and were introduced to the fans.

For the second time within less than three months, the famous wrestlers are staging a match before Glendale fans. This will be no draw affair, as the match on Labor Day, but will be a finish meet, the best two out of three falls winning, with no time limit.

Three fast boxing bouts are scheduled preliminary to the main event. Sammy Waltz and Earnie Stocker will meet in the semi-final. Waltz fought the main event with Larry Smith last week. Earnie Stocker has also appeared before in the local ring. Kid Payo and Jack Carr will stage a return bout. They met some time ago here and fought to a four-round draw. Young Kerns of the Glendale Athletic club will take on Young Lacho of Pasadena in the curtain raiser. Lacho fought here last week.

This looks like the best card lined up yet by Les Marston for the Glendale Athletic club. The boxing bouts will all be fast, while the main event, the wrestling match, is sure to be good. A record crowd is expected.

GLENDALE K. C.
TEAM DEFEATED

The San Fernando club took advantage of Glendale's loose fielding yesterday, taking a 9 to 3 win over the Sages. Third Baseman Chaplin of the San Fernando club proved his ability by smacking out four hits out of five trips to the plate.

All in a more or less crippled condition. As a preliminary to the big struggle the freshman teams of the two colleges battled to a 0 to 0 tie. The lineup of the big game:

TROJANS HAND

in Long Drawn Out
Contest

Before a crowd of about ten thousand spectators the University of Southern California trampled over the University of Idaho in the game of 9 to 0 at the Coliseum in Los Angeles Saturday afternoon. The Idaho boys were a hard bunch of fighters and did not give up until the final gun sounded. In teamwork, interference and open field work the U. S. C. boys had a shade of the argument. Chet Dolley, who played his last game with his team, proving the star of the game.

The feature of the game was its length. Idaho was penalized three times for unnecessary delay. It was so dark when the game ended—so dark, in fact, that during the forward passes the ball could not be seen from the grandstand. Fireworks started when Newman was put in in the second quarter. Newman is a wonder at the delivery end of the forward pass and with dependable Chet Dolley at the receiving end, the pair was able to engineer a play by which Chet was able to deposit the "ball" behind the Idaho goal line. Earle scored the safety for U. S. C. in the final quarter.

HUGE CROWD AT OPENING OF THE
NEW BALL PARKGlendale White Sox Drop to Shell Oil by 9-1 Score

A crowd estimated at more than 8000 persons, filling the stands to overflowing and surging out over the field saw the Glendale White Sox drop their first home game to the Shell Oil nine at the formal opening of the new Glendale baseball park on South San Fernando road.

For seven innings the spectators were treated to an airtight pitching duel between Arnold Crandall of the eighth and Crandall was routed. He was relieved by Callard but too late to change the verdict.

There were notable guests at the ceremonies attendant to the inaugural of the famous Pittsburgh Pirates, Sam "Wahoo" Crawford, Irish and Bob Meusel; Harry A. Williams, new president of the Coast league; "Boo" Montana; Mayor Spencer Robinson of Glendale; Jesse Smith, president of the Glendale chamber of commerce, and a flock of other lesser lights were introduced and all received a big glad hand.

Mike Donlin, famous veteran of the old New York Giants, piloted the losing club and played first base. "Doc" Crandall, Coast league veteran and another ex-Glendale, was at second base for Glendale. It was all to the trape, that opening, and it sent semi-pro baseball off with a bang in the thriving city that in two years has doubled its population.

Oscar Reichow, business manager of the Angels, Sid Grauman, Art Wenzel, Jim Scott of the San Francisco club, and a large number of other notables were on hand for the festivities.

For seven innings the ball game was a pippin. Both clubs did their "baseball thing" in splendid style. George Lafayette, who pastimes with the Oakland Coast leaguers during the summer months, was the outstanding hero of the day's play. He drove in the major portion of the winners' runs by clicking a pair of homers with the paths well occupied, both drives which cleared the right field fence and in two teammates ahead of him. That, combined with Fairbanks' sterling mound work, tells the story of the Shell triumph. Yesterday's big crowd will more than likely force the Glendale management to build additional stands to care for the future attendance. It was a great day and a fitting dedication.

CALTECH DOWNS
CUBS, 57 TO 6,
IN WILD GAME

"Fox" Stanton's Caltech Engineers ran wild over Jimmy Chline's clueless Cubs Saturday at Tournament Park, swamping the S. B. U. C. entry, 57 to 6. The Engineers proved themselves the most powerful eleven in the Southern California Conference by their showing yesterday, although technically they remain tied with the Pomona Sagehens for the championship.

"Horsey" Alderman and Baker, left half, led the parade for the Engineers, the former scoring four touchdowns. These two huskies made ground every time they puffed the ball. Quarterback Maury Goldsmith, playing his last game for Tech ran the Engineers in brilliant fashion, mixing his plays and occasionally throwing in a pass that worked with great success. Capt. Holly Myse, Hal Beck, Fred Groly and Tommy Thomas also made their last grid appearance for their alma mater.

man and stopped him nearly every time.

The first score was made by Glendale in the second period of the game. Glendale kicked off and after an exchange of punts ensued, Duke made a long run and took the ball to the Glendale 30-yard line, from which position the Saints attempted to place kick. The ball hit the goal posts and bounced off. After another exchange of punts San Bernardino had the ball on Glendale's 30-yard line when the first quarter ended. Again the Saints tried for a place kick and failed. An exchange of punts followed, and San Bernardino completed several passes, bringing the ball to the Glendale 25-yard line. Les Lavell intercepted one of these passes and on the next play Howard Elliot ran 55 yards around left end. After a couple of plays, bringing the ball into position, Elliot made a perfect place kick from the 35-yard line, giving Glendale a 3 to 0 lead.

After the kickoff San Bernardino took on new life and went right down the field on line plays, making yards time and again. The Glendale line stiffened, however, 15 yards from the goal, and the Saints again attempted a place kick. This time it went right between the goal posts and tied the score. Glendale's touchdown came right at the end of the half. An exchange of punts followed the kickoff, and Glendale got the ball in the center of the field. Bud Elliot made a run of 35 yards around left end for a touchdown just as the gun barked out the end of the half. The kick failed and the score stood Glendale 9, San Bernardino 3.

Neither team was able to score in the third quarter. Several exchanges of punts gave Glendale a slight advantage and Walton and Breezy Elliot pulled off a couple of good runs. A pass was intercepted by San Bernardino and the Saints attempted a string of passes. Horri intercepted one of these on the Glendale 35-yard line. The quarter ended with San Bernardino in possession of the ball on their own 35-yard line.

San Bernardino got the advantage on an exchange of punts and on a series of passes took the ball down to the Glendale 20-yard line. A pass to Pinkert, who ran straight down the field and across the goal line for a touchdown, tied the score. The kick was good and San Bernardino copped the lead by one point. The score stood San Bernardino 10, Glendale 9.

San Bernardino kicked off to the Glendale 30-yard line. Ryan pulled off an end run on a trick play formation, netting 25 yards. Run by Bud Elliot and Walton took the ball to the 25-yard line, where Howard Elliot tried for a place kick. The kick was blocked, but Glendale recovered. After being thrown for losses several times, Glendale again tried for a place kick. The ball was clear over to the right side of the field and Elliot had to kick from a difficult angle. From the 47-yard line he booted the ball right between the goal posts for one of the prettiest place kicks of the season, scoring three points and giving Glendale a 12 to 10 lead.

Glendale kicked off and San Bernardino advanced the ball on passes. Ofrut and Brucker were then managed to intercept one of these on the Glendale 30-yard line. After a fumble had been recovered Elliot placed one of his kicks between the goal posts from the 33-yard line. The score stood Glendale 15, San Bernardino 10.

In the last 15 minutes of play Glendale showed up exceptionally well. Twice Zaun intercepted San Bernardino passes and made short gains. Howard Elliot and Walton pulled off some great runs. Glendale had the ball on San Bernardino's 15-yard line when the gun ended the game.

The entire Glendale team played a wonderful game. The line especially deserves credit for the way it held when the goal was threatened. Morrison and Brucker showed up in great style. To mention those who starred would be to repeat the whole lineup. Captain Ronald West played a great game while he was in, but injured his bad hip in the back period and was not able to go back into the game. Howard Elliot had an exceptionally good day with the boot and was responsible for the winning scores.

A crowd of more than 600 Glendale rooters accompanied the team to Ontario and displayed a wonderful exhibition of cheering.

Glendale will meet Santa Monica in the next round of playoffs. The game will probably be played this Saturday, although the exact date and the field on which it will be played have not been announced.

A Customer Who Never Sees His Bank

AN ACCOUNT may be opened and subsequent business transacted with this Bank, safely and satisfactorily, and the customer need never enter its doors.

Practically every service we offer—and that includes all of modern banking practice—can be performed by mail. New accounts are opened, deposits made by check, money order or registered mail, and other services performed with the same prompt, efficient attention you would receive in person.

Thus are those who live out of personal reach of the Bank and those who find it inconvenient to come in during banking hours provided with the same services as our other 275,000 depositors throughout the Pacific-Southwest.

Your banking-by-mail account—savings or checking—is welcome.

AT THE THEATRES

POLISH ARTIST PAINTS MARION DAVIES' PICTURE

Tada Styka, the Polish artist, who is considered one of the finest portrait painters in the world, recently painted a portrait of Marion Davies, Cosmopolitan star. The picture is greatly admired by all who have seen it. Mr. Styka has brought to the canvas a remarkable likeness of Miss Davies and a beautiful blending of colors. Miss Davies posed in a blue gown which contrasted with the gold tints of her hair and the pink and white of her skin. Incidentally, blue is Miss Davies' favorite color. The picture was painted while the star was hard at work on "Little Old New York," which is to be the attraction at the T. D. and L. theatre again tomorrow. It was, therefore, necessary for her to pose for the celebrated painter on Sundays and any other time that she could steal a few hours.

Miss Davies thinks that sitting for a portrait is much more difficult than working before the camera, but since the painting has turned out so well she is glad now that she sat for it.

ECLIPSE HELPS CAMERA FILMING "WOMAN-PROOF"

For the first time in cinema history practical use has just been made of a total eclipse of the sun. This was done in connection with the filming of certain episodes in "Woman-Proof," a Paramount picture starring Thomas Meighan, which is showing again today at the Gateway.

Nature timed the phenomenon perfectly for the purposes of Alfred E. Green, the director. The script called for both daylight and night scenes aboard ship, and these were obtained a few minutes apart, far out at sea, between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

With help rendered by darkness that enveloped the vessel as it passed through the moon's shadow, the cameramen completed, under conditions never before possible of utilization, the filming of romantic episodes in the forthcoming feature.

The entire cast of "Woman-Proof" made the trip from Los Angeles to San Francisco, where following the pictures taken at sea, waterfront scenes were taken.

"MONNA VANNA" GREAT ROMANCE OF THE SCREEN

The same story of love, ages old, runs through a shock of contending ambitions and unending passions in "Monna Vanna," Maurice Maeterlinck's immortal love drama which has now been put on the screen. William Fox will present this historical romance again today at the Glendale theatre.

In spite of the shadowy action of many of his plays which require some special conditions and requirements they are frequently produced with marvelous success. "Princess Maleine" was his first published play which won the instant favor of the Paris critics who called Maeterlinck the "Belgian Shakespeare." Then followed "Pelleas and Melisande," "The Blue Bird," "Mary Magdalene," "The Intruder," "The Betrothal," "Monna Vanna," and "Joyzele" with other shorter one act-plays.

A LITTLE SONG

How troubled be the way, along
It helps to sing a little song;
It keeps the spirit high and sweet,
It's very good to rise and greet
The morning with; and when the day
Is dull and overcast with gray,
And when the world seems going wrong
It helps to sing a little song.

It's good for big folks and for small,
For folks who're short and folks who're tall,
For stout folks too and for the thin,
And now's the minute to begin,
For if you're glad you ought to sing,
And if you're sad a song will bring
The happiness you think you've lost
At such a very little cost.

So be we great or be we small,
And be we short or be we tall,
And be we old or be we young,
A song there is that should be sung.
The frets and worries of the day,
A song will drive them all away,
And when things get to going wrong
It helps to sing a little song.
